

Assignments for Servants of the Most High God. I DARE YOU!

HOW DO YOU GROW CLOSER TO YOUR BEST FRIEND?

Do you ignore him or her—or do you hang out and talk a lot? Do you always ask your best friend for money? Or do you usually just talk about what's going on in life? Prayer is hanging out with God, something He has wanted to do with us all along.

Some of us may not be as effective as we could be in our witness for Jesus because we haven't taken time to get to know Him as we should. We may know a bunch of religious facts about God, the Bible, and Jesus, but as we spend time with Jesus, we'll get to know Him better and become more effective in helping others know Him too.

This week, follow through on the commitment you made in class to spend time daily with God. Unless you set aside a specific time to spend with God each day, chances are you'll never follow through. Life can get so busy that it's easy to forget or to put aside time with God until you think everything else is out of the way. But you must make your personal time with God top priority if you really want to have His power and follow His purpose for your life.

Use the space on this page to write the specific times you spent alone with God (talking to Him, listening for His response, reading the Bible, worshipping Him). Remember, this is all one-on-one time with God. So don't count time you spent in church, praying for meals, or studying for this course. If you want to have the kind of impact that Daniel had on his world, you need to have regular personal time with God. Go ahead,

I DARE YOU!

REMEMBER, spending time with God must become a driving desire, not just something to cross off our list every day. But often, in order for something to become a deep desire, we must determine to start with discipline.
