

THE BILLY GRAHAM LIBRARY GROUNDS

Graham Family Homeplace:

The Graham family homeplace was built in 1927 on a dairy farm about four miles from the Library. Billy's mother, Morrow Coffey Graham, lived in the homeplace until her death in 1981. The original house was moved to this site at the Library, where it has been restored.

Memorial Prayer Garden:

This tranquil garden lies at the edge of the woods, at the end of a cross-shaped brick walkway. Ruth Graham was buried here in 2007. Billy Graham asked his two original Crusade team members to be buried next to their wives in an area just a short stroll away. George Beverly Shea was buried there in 2013, and Cliff Barrows' wife Billie—who passed away in 1994—is also laid to rest there.

ILLUSTRATION BY DAVID PUCKETT, COURTESY OF THE CHARLOTTE OBSERVER

RUTH'S ATTIC BOOKSTORE

Named after Billy Graham's wife, Ruth, our bookstore features a great selection of Bibles; books by the Graham family and other noted authors; classic Billy Graham sermons on DVD; plus a wide selection of gifts, including music, apparel, and specialty items. Bookstore exhibits include Billy Graham's personal library and desk.

Enjoy a selection of delicious meals and snacks, including deli sandwiches, chicken salad made from Mother Graham's recipe, the Billy

Frank hot dog, BBQ, fresh salads, soups, ice cream cones, fresh-baked cookies, and Mother Graham's poundcake.

HELPFUL HINTS

- The bookstore and dairy bar accept cash, checks, and all major credit cards.
- Smoking, alcoholic beverages, and outside food and drink are not permitted on the property.
- Food and drink are permitted only in the dairy bar and lobby areas.
- Pets allowed in outside pet area only.
- Cameras are permitted in the exhibit areas, but please refrain from flash photography.
- Admission is free, but if you'd like to make a contribution, donation boxes are available in the lobby.

BILLY GRAHAM
Evangelistic Association
Always Good News.

The BILLY GRAHAM LIBRARY

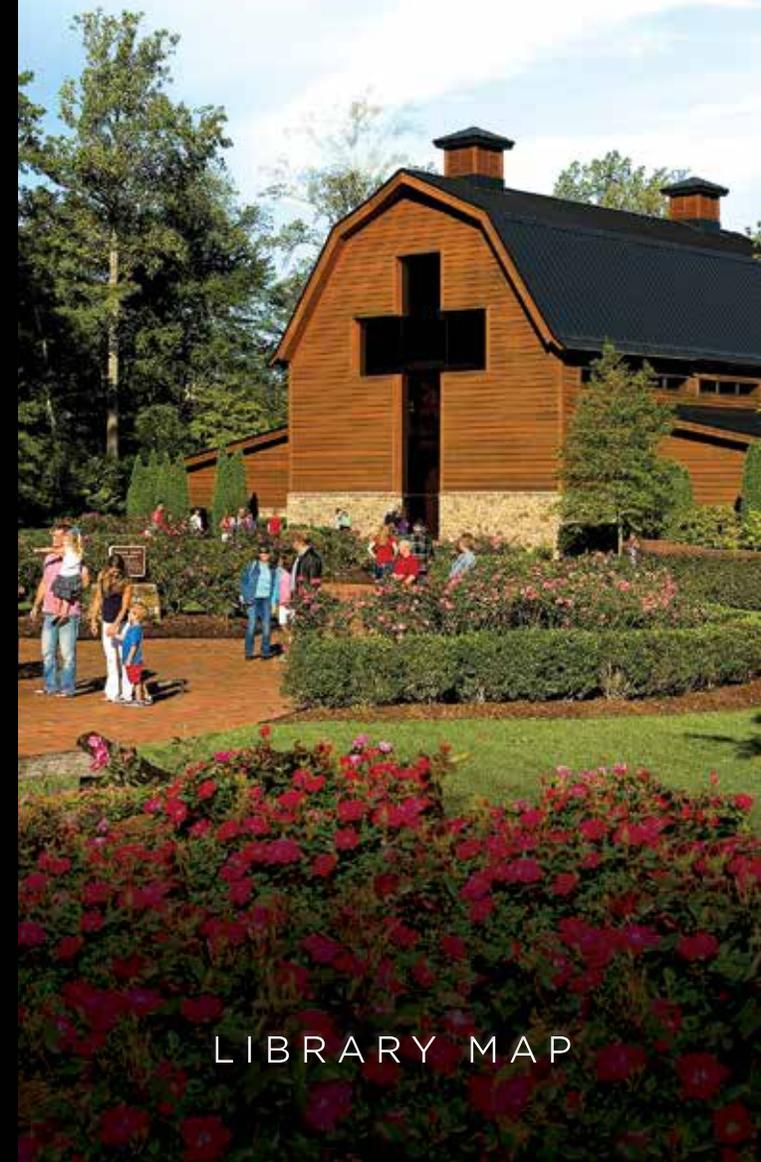

704-401-3200 • BillyGrahamLibrary.org

4330 Westmont Drive • Charlotte, North Carolina 28217

Permission to access the private property of Billy Graham Evangelistic Association (BGEA), including the Billy Graham Library, may be revoked or denied at any time, at BGEA's discretion. Proper attire is required for all guests at all times. Please note that, unless authorized, BGEA prohibits possession of weapons of any type in its buildings, including both visible and concealed weapons and those for which the owner has obtained a valid permit. The distribution by guests of handbills, literature and other materials is not permitted. Guests are advised that video surveillance cameras are in use. By entering the Billy Graham Library, guests agree to allow BGEA to capture and use their likenesses or images in its publications. All guests voluntarily assume all risks of personal or bodily injury, and of theft or damage to their personal property, incidental to entrance upon the property including, without limitation, injury from property conditions, acts of third parties, etc. Guests agree that BGEA and/or those who may be acting on its behalf are not responsible for any such injuries, theft or damages, or any related expenses, claims or liabilities.

The BILLY GRAHAM
Library

The Journey of Faith

LIBRARY MAP

©2014 BGEA 56349

THE BILLY GRAHAM LIBRARY

